Gigantic Stock Reducing Days Continue

Without stint or limit in the measure of value giving. "Great Opportunity Days" when merchandise moves at a fraction of its real worth. Prices tremble and out they go. No seconds or spoiled lots. We'll clean up the usual odd lots and discontinued lines at a big sacrifice, but the bulk of goods involved is new and fresh, all strictly "high grade" articles for which every shopper will have demand for months ahead. See our quotations. Every item presents some new pleasure, some instructive impressions.
